

North American Pronghorn

Answers: Page 32

ACROSS

3. A major portion of the pronghorn's diet is composed of _____.
6. A tear-inspiring vegetable.
7. Pronghorn are not true antelope; they are actually relatives of _____.
10. Male Pronghorn are called _____.
12. _____ is one of the pronghorn's main defenses against attack.
13. Not is, but _____.
17. Pronghorn are the only surviving genus and species of their _____, Antilocapra Americana.
18. In severe winter seasons pronghorns from throughout the state and as far away as Montana _____ to the INEEL.
19. Keen _____ is another of the pronghorn's defense against attack.

DOWN

1. Pronghorns are very curious animals. They insist on examining at _____ range any unrecognized object.
2. The pronghorn is so adapted physiologically that it can go for _____ periods without drinking.
4. Some pronghorn Antelope are year-round _____ of the INEEL.
5. Pronghorn Antelope is America's _____ mammal.
8. An acorn-producing tree.
9. Pronghorns have pronged horns that are about 12 _____ long.
10. The pronghorn has dark _____ hair on its back and sides with lighter colored hair on its belly, throat and rump patch.
11. Pronghorns _____ their horn sheaths each year.
14. Pronghorn are _____ than deer.
15. A male pronghorn has black cheek patches, some black over his face, and black _____.
16. A pronghorn's top speed is about _____ miles per hour.

Word List

Brown
Bucks
Close
Eyesight
Family
Forbs
Goats
Horns
Inches
Long
Migrate
Oak
Onion
Residents
Shed
Sixty
Smaller
Speed
Swiftest
Was